

IAN STEVENSON

Senior Associate

Ian Stevenson specializes in the sales, acquisition, leasing, and investment in industrial real estate throughout the South Bay marketplace.

In his first year as a runner with Kidder Mathews, Ian was recognized for his outstanding achievements. Today, he translates that same enthusiasm into highly successful results for those valued clients he serves.

Ian works diligently to maintain a proprietary landlord and tenant information database for more than 1200 industrial buildings in the South Bay. He believes informed real estate decisions come from perfected data, honest brokerage, and the strength of your business relationships - whether in leasing, disposition, or acquisition, the right team makes all the difference.

He prides himself on integrity and old fashioned work ethic. These are lessons learned directly from his Uncle who has been a fixture in South Bay industrial real estate for over 40 years. Ian grew up with a passion for industrial real estate through these early mentoring opportunities

Prior to joining Kidder Mathews, Ian spent two summers working for Heger Industrial and working under renowned brokers Robert Thornburgh and Marc Bonando in Long Beach, while also finishing his degree at the University of California, Berkeley. Go Bears!
